Boy, 10, dies in accident

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Friends, classmates, Merri-man Elementary School officials and family members gathered at Beulah Baptist Church in Westland on Tuesday to bid a fond but sad farewell to young Phillip Richardson, who was killed Nov. 15 in an icy traffic accident.

Romulus police said young Phillip was buckled in his seatbelt about 7:30 p.m. that night, when his mother's 1989 Toyota skidded on the ice on Eureka Road in Romulus and traveled into on-coming traffic.

A 21-year-old Taylor driver's 1988 Chevrolet smashed into the passenger door side of the Richardson car, police said. He was transported to Heritage Hospital, where he died, Romulus police said.

The mother was admitted to Heritage Hospital with assorted injuries.

Principals begin duties

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus students arriving in school on Monday found new faces in various principals' offices.

Daniel Hurst, who has served as principal at the Romulus Middle School for the past year and the half, has returned to the high school, where he will serve as principal.

Hurst formerly served as one of the high school principals. He succeeds Thomas Dolan, who has assumed the job of curriculum director on a district-wide level.

Ed Clark, who has been assistant principal at the middle school for the past 18 months, has been named acting principal at the same school.

Clark, prior to being named assistant principal in 1994, served for many years as the district's partnership director with local businesses and industries.

Clark's assistant principal post will be filled in turn by Chris Power, who in the past served as both a teacher and the district teachers' union president.

Power said that James Orme, a teacher at Romulus High School, now assumes the office of president of the teachers' union.

Superintendent Dr. William Bedell told parents attending the Nov. 13th school board meeting that the principal appointments were not finalized yet. By last Wednesday those decisions were completed and they were officially announced last Thursday.

The string of changes stem from the resignation last August of Assistant Superintendent Terrel LeCesne, who has since accepted the superintendent position in his hometown of Inkster.

LeCesne's position was then divided into two posts, one filled by Dolan and the other filled by Dr. Samuel LaMonica, currently the director of employee relations and benefits in the Livonia School District.

LaMonica reportedly will begin his Romulus duties early in January 1996.

Gear is now mayor pro tem

Leaders and representatives of the new Romulus City Council were selected on Nov. 14 for the duration of the current council term.

Based on his election high vote, Councilman Randolph Gear earned the right to succeed Mary Ann Banks as Mayor pro tem.

Veteran Councilman William Wadsworth, who came in second, was named the Chairman pro tem position. This position was formerly held by Gear.

Newly elected Councilman William Crova has agreed to be the council's representative to the city's Planning Commission. Crova also said he will step down as the commission's chairman.

Crova said the Planning Commission vice chairman Sheldon Chandler has taken over the chairmanship, as of this past Monday night's meeting.

Mayor's recount slated for Dec. 11

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The new Romulus mayor will be sworn in shortly after 4 p.m. on Dec. 11, City Clerk Linda Choate revealed Monday morning.

A team of between 20-30 official Wayne County vote canvassers will arrive in the city clerk's office at 9 a.m. that day to begin the arduous task of recounting nearly 4,000 votes in the race between Mayor Beverly McAnally and currently Mayor-elect William Oakley.

On Nov. 7, city voters gave Oakley a 20 vote advantage and the apparent win for the office of mayor for the next two years.

A Wayne County Election Department spokesperson said the board of canvassers (two Republicans and two Democrats) will officially announce the decision at about 4 p.m. Dec. 11. The county election department spokesperson said six recount sessions are planned in Wayne County in December with the first to be held in Romulus.

Choate said the new mayor would then be sworn in moments later and would sit in the mayor's chair at the City Council meeting that night.

It has not been decided yet when the inauguration ceremony will be conducted, Choate said.

McAnally announced a few days after the election that she was challenging the vote totals on "fraud and error" counts.

McAnally said last Thursday that she felt she owed it to her "city employees and campaign workers to challenge" the small vote difference.

Oakley, in turn, challenged McAnally's sitting in the mayor's chair until the recount is completed, but his request was turned down by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Michael Talbot on Nov. 13.

According to the city's own charter, Oakley is listed as "unqualified" to take office until after the recount, City Attorney Barry Seifman said.

Various city department heads and workers, including Finance Director Donovan Maguire, Department of Public Works Director James Panos (who was on medical leave) and Personnel Director Marilyn Radford, have already left their Romulus positions following the election.

It also has been reported that McAnally's administrative aide Betsey Krampitz and Lynn Conway, finance coordinator, also have left their city jobs.

Debra Hoffman is currently the acting finance director.

Meeting dates the same

Despite some discussion to the contrary, the current meeting schedule of the Romulus City Council will remain the same, with meetings to be conducted the first, second and fourth Mondays of each month.

Veteran Councilman Jimmie Raspberry motioned for such a schedule. But then new City Council member Deborah Romak asked that the council meet the first three Mondays, so that council members could attend the last Romulus School Board meeting of the month if they wished.

The two governing bodies have been meeting at the same time each month in recent years, causing frustration for some citizens who would like to attend both sessions.

But the city's Planning Commission meets in the Council Chambers on the third Monday of the month and Mayor pro tem has military assignments on Tuesdays, thus blocking an occasional Tuesday meeting.

School Superintendent Dr. William Bedell revealed the school district is working to obtain its own cable channel, which would allow for its public meetings to also be aired thus filling some of the void in local communication between the governing bodies and the public.

Christmas tree trimming slated

Local youngsters will help take part in the official Christmas tree decoration session at the Romulus Public Library on Dec. 2.

Library Youth Service Director Shelley DeLano said the trimming project will begin at 10 a.m. that day. "We will be stringing popcorn and cranberries and paper chains to decorate our newly donated Christmas tree," DeLano said.

Local children and other residents are urged to join in the festivity. "You are invited to also donate an unbreakable tree ornament," she said.

Christmas mural is being planned

Based on this summer's successful circus mural, the Romulus Public Library is asking local youth to take part in the city's Christmas mural creation during this holiday season.

Library Youth Service Director Shelley DeLano said "all children are invited to the library to take part in the making of this year's holiday mural. Bring your artistic ability and an idea for a holiday picture that you would enjoy making."

DeLano said the mural creation will begin on Saturday and will continue through Dec. 16. When completed the mural will be hung behind the library's circulation desk.

The library is open Monday through Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from noon to 5 p.m. The library is closed Fridays and Sundays.

Christmas trip offered seniors

A trip to visit the Christmas Show at Whiting Auditorium in Flint is now being offered to Romulus senior citizens.

The date for the tour is Dec. 13 with departure from the Senior Center slated for 4 p.m. and a return at 11:45 p.m.

The $46 trip includes a rest-room-equipped bus, dinner at a top restaurant near Flint before the show and the Christmas show featuring 200 performers.

For further information contact Senior Center Director Marilyn Hoffer at 942-6852.

Moonlight bowling slated Dec. 2

A special moonlight bowling program to aid the Romulus Little League 1996 is slated for 10 p.m. Dec. 2 at the Woodhaven Bowling Lanes.

For ticket information contact Jeannette A. Behnke, league secretary-treasurer at 941-6147.

The non-profit league also conducts its regular board meetings at 7 p.m. the second and fourth Mondays of the month at the Romulus Recreation Department on Bibbins Street.

Teacher honored for October

Romulus High School teacher Russ Lockwood has been named "Teacher of the Month" for October by the Romulus High School Student Government.

Lockwood was nominated for the honor by student Rebecca Oleszkowicz, who said, "Mr. Lockwood is never too busy to explain things. He's fair and gives lots of extra credit and creates a positive learning environment. His class is never stressful as he wants his students to be successful."

In addition to his award, Lockwood was presented with a $50 gift certificate to Mountain Jack's Restaurant.

Christmas craft show planned

The annual Christmas Craft Show sponsored by Romulus Senior High School will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Dec. 9.

The first 100 shoppers will be given a free designer shopping bag.

City office changes have already begun

City Councilman Michael Prybyla didn't know how visionary he was last January, when he predicted changes would be taking place in Romulus.

While he was relating to other changes at the time, this writer also predicted heavy transformations were about to begin in both city and school district personnel.

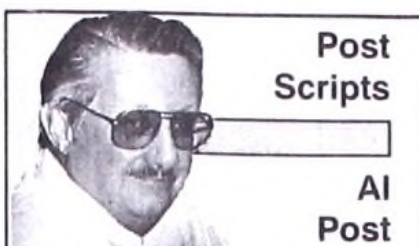

Some of those changes already have taken place with the loss of veteran Councilman Ellis Pennington, the apparent defeat of incumbent Mayor Beverly McNally and the swearing-in of three new council members, Mary Collins, William Crova and Deborah Romak.

If the 20-vote margin holds up during the city's recount on Dec. 11, numerous other changes will be taking effect in city departments as various city directors will be replaced by then Mayor William Oakley.

One local activist attending the election night vote counting session at Romulus City Hall, openly declared, "This is just the beginning, the school district will feel our discontent next year when there are two seats to fill."

While obviously disappointed, McNally said she called for the recount because the city vote was almost split 50-50 between her and Oakley and she felt she owed it to her city workers and campaign volunteers to challenge the outcome.

"They (Oakley forces) did

Post Scripts

what was necessary to win," McNally said, referring to the late barrage of unsigned political handouts against her and various council candidates.

"I remain glad that we didn't do it," McNally said.

She expressed disappointment that Oakley (the Monday after the election) asked for jury trials on various ordinance violation complaints filed against him by the city ordinance officer."

Then returning to the subject of the Nov. 7 election, McNally stated "if I can't win on my record, I don't need the job."

McNally cited the fact it was her first loss in a long city history of council, treasurer and mayor contests. "I did my best and tried my hardest," she said.

The 12-year mayor discounted rumors that she may be moving out of Romulus. "I own a home here, I have family here and even my future grave is here," she said.

She expressed pleasure that she was the first woman ever elected mayor of Romulus and with her long city record of accomplishments and feels (like many others) that it will be a long time before her record of longevity in City Hall will be matched.

Her proudest moments as the head of the city, McNally said, were when she officially met President William Clinton and current Pope John Paul II, while they were visiting the Metro area.

Clinton, she reported earlier, was one of the few national officials to acknowledge that he actually was in the city of Romulus when passing through Detroit Metro Airport. Most others always state they are in Detroit.

The main regrets she expressed were that local voters did not share her value of having the second lowest tax rate in Wayne County or that enormous growth had occurred while she was mayor.

But, McNally claims, some of that growth came back to haunt her, as many of the new residents in various subdivisions ultimately voted for her opponent this time. She said these new voters listened intently to the negative statements of her opponent's forces.

Most of the rest of the opposition to her re-election effort came from the vibrant support for Oakley from current and former city employees (mainly Department of Public Works staff members) who she had to discipline in the past, McNally said.

Once again, she stated, if the 20 vote margin holds up on Dec. 11, she will enjoy doing many things with her life she has had to postpone before. But one thing she will heartily enjoy, McNally said, is becoming a local critic.

She admits being the butt of a great deal of criticism in the past and feels it will give her some relief to be able to become one of the city's critics herself for the first time in several decades.

Veteran firefighter completes 25 years

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus Fire Department Battalion Chief Don Schmidt, who remembers his father's fire department actions back in New York when he was a small child, recently passed his own quarter of a century of duty here.

Schmidt, who heads the city's Station 4 operations, said he became involved in Romulus fire activities in 1970.

He credits his father's actions in Rochester, N.Y. when he was only about 2 or 3 years of age, as being the spur to his getting involved in Romulus fire operations.

Schmidt, 46, said he was out of town with Northwest Airlines Flight 255 crashed here and thus his outstanding memory of fire duty had to do more with the long propane fire on Northline Road back in the 1970s that he said lasted for days.

"I don't remember any deaths at that time," Schmidt said, "but the extensive fire did burn a lot of grass, trees and other objects."

One of his chief roles as chief (a position he has held since July) is to pass on the knowledge he has learned over the years to the new men in the fire department.

In the past decade a great deal of new equipment (particularly fire protection devices for the firemen) have been acquired by the city, he said.

"I don't remember any deaths at that time but the extensive fire did burn a lot of grass, trees and other objects."
Don Schmidt

He feels fire department visits to the local schools, particularly with childhood favorites such as Ronald McDonald, are very effective in attracting future firemen.

"Many kids like myself are impacted early on to become firemen and we need to keep that dream alive," Schmidt said.

But he admitted filling the daytime hour periods with volunteer firefighting capabilities remains one of the biggest crises across the U.S.

"Many people work during those hours and that blocks them from volunteering for fire duties," he explained.

Schmidt is also extremely proud of the role the local firefighters play in the Romulus Goodfellows holiday season effort to help all children have a Christmas.

The young battalion chief also cites his boss, Fire Chief William Greenslaid, as being a very positive force in the department. "He knows what we need to protect our bodies while fighting fires," Schmidt said, "and battles very hard to make sure we get it."

New area workers aid needy families

By AL POST

Newly employed members of the Romulus Transmission Operation working with the local General Motors Power Train on Van Born Road have opened their hearts and wallets to aid six needy Romulus families for the Thanksgiving season.

Spokesperson Tony Gibson, chairman of the inplant charity committee, said his group has obtained the names of three striking newspaper families and three Salvation Army related families in Romulus and will present them on Wednesday with 10-12 pound turkeys as well as other Thanksgiving dinner items.

In addition, he said, we also will be giving these families a box of personal items.

Once operational the union workers will be creating transmissions for Astro and Safari vans, he said.

Gibson said the workers, who want to feel as part of the Romulus community, also are planning a major Christmas help campaign.

New principals

The three promoted Romulus educators are from left: Daniel Hurst, the new high school principal; Ed Clark, acting principal of the middle school and Chris Power, new acting middle school assistant principal. All three took over their new offices on Monday.

Police Lt. Robert Brown said a large number of accidents were reported that night because of the icy conditions, including one involving a Romulus Police car.

The victim was a fifth grade student at Merriman Elementary School.

The victim was a fifth grade student at Merriman Elementary School. School officials lowered the flag half staff in his honor and grief counselors visited the school early the following day to assist young Richardson's classmates, friends and teachers, school officials said.

On Tuesday Richardson's fifth grade teacher, Margie Baird, and school Principal Andrea Williams joined the mourners at the Tuesday funeral rites.

Interment was at Mount Hope Cemetery in Livonia. Arrangements were completed by the Beams of Heaven Funeral Home of Inkster.

Auditions slated this week

Auditions for next spring's Annie musical production at Romulus High School will be conducted Tuesday and Wednesday from 2:30 to 5 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The performance dates are listed as April 25, 26 and 27, 1996.

Priority mail gets boost

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

More than 20 million priority pieces of mail have been handled at the Romulus based United States Postal Priority Mail Processing Center in the past year.

The plant located at 30003 Van Born Road was opened up a little more than a year ago to improve overnight and two day mail service to its customers, Thomas J. Halcisak, manager distribution operation-Detroit priority mail center, said.

"From the onset, it has been a successful team effort between management and union," Halcisak added. "We need to break the mold and get things accomplished together," Glen Shelton, president of the National Postal Mail Handlers Union Local 307 said.

The team composed of 90 employees got together earlier and brainstormed ideas that transformed an old Pepsi Cola warehouse into an optimum operational site.

District and set customer satisfaction as its chief priority.

"Everybody wins," said Georgia Butler, a representative of the National Postal Mail Handlers Union.

"Customers love the service and as business grows, so does the job potential," Butler said.

Over 100 new jobs were created with the new Romulus facility.

Halcisak said planning for growth is exactly what is happening here. With over 88,000 square feet of floor space available in a building that is located on 10 acres of property, the postal unit is prepared for any future expansion needs for years to come.

Dancing queen Glenn senior captures 1996 Junior Miss title

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

She dazzled the audience with her expertise as a dancer and mesmerized the judges with her scholastic achievement, personality and talent. John Glenn High School senior Tiffany Clemons was selected as the 1996 Junior Miss Nov. 18.

For her outstanding efforts, Clemons received: $1,500 in scholarships; an engraved plaque courtesy of Wayne-Westland Junior Miss Inc.; roses from Keller and Stein; an official Junior Miss portrait from Allen Brooks Studio; a book certificate from Harvard Book; and a watch from Leo's Jewelry.

"This is really exciting," said Clemons only moments after her name was called as the winner. "I never expected this. I made a lot of new friends, and I had a lot of fun."

Clemons is headed to the University of Michigan after she graduates from John Glenn High School next spring. She hopes to become a genetic engineer.

For her talent portion of the contest, she performed a lyrical acro, and her movements were graceful and executed with the knowledge of a pro.

"I've been dancing since I was four years old," said Clemons. "I've been dancing now for 14 years. It's one of my favorite hobbies."

Clemons is also involved in the John Glenn cheerleading, National Honor Society, Student Council, Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) and is a mentor.

She said what concerns her most in the 1990s is violence and racism, and she plans to combat those two issues in the near future.

Her parents, Brenda Carter and Gary Clemons were very pleased with the results of the Junior Miss event.

"We're very proud of Tiffany," said Carter. "She has worked very hard, and we support her in everything she does."

Clemons now has the opportunity to compete for the state title in Alpena March 2, 1996. If she captures that title, she will compete in America's Junior Miss Scholarship program in Mobile, Ala. next June.

The Junior Miss candidates consisted of 10 seniors representing Wayne Memorial High School and John Glenn High School, and they included: Sonia McLeod; Lindsay Wade; Kim Dobrowolski; Karen Chuck; Julie Thomas; Sarah Coombs; Tiffany Clemons; Jenny Tapper; Mischa Lambert; and Debbie Kuehnel.

The first runner-up was Julie Thomas from Wayne Memorial, daughter of Wayne police Lt. Keith Thomas and his wife, Jeri. She won $1,000 in scholarships as well as an engraved plaque and roses.

Debbie Kuehnel from John Glenn, daughter of Carl and Delores Kuehnel, captured the second runner-up spot winning $500 in scholarships, an engraved plaque and roses.

The event was hosted by Pat and Dennis Hermatz, chairpersons for the Junior Miss program. The master of ceremonies was Andy Spisak, court officer for the 18th District Court.

Each Junior Miss candidate was judged on the following: scholastic achievement-20 percent; judge's evaluation-25 percent; creative and performing arts-25 percent; fitness-15 percent; and presence and composure-15 percent.

The young women also had to answer tough questions from Spisak which ranged from how much punishment should a repeat offender receive to how gang violence should be handled.

Junior Miss Challenge

Dare to be yourself.
To be the best that you can be.
Be a Junior Miss.
Develop the difference others can see.
Don't settle for less Than you're capable of.
Mediocrity is below you,
Set your goals high above.
If discouragement finds you
And failures befall,
Remember your potential,
Chin up and stand tall.
Then, with success as your story
And a future that's sound,
Seek to share yourself with others,
Help them find what you've found.

Coffee shops take lead in socializing in the 1990s

What would Thanksgiving be without turkey, lumpy gravy, pumpkin pie? Okay, parties, football and the holiday season too.

The average life span of a domestic turkey is 26 weeks. Turkeys have about 3,500 feathers. Approximately 75 million will be eaten for Thanksgiving. Then you have 44 percent of all turkeys eaten in a sandwich form.

Six ounces of cooked white turkey has 186 calories and 8.8 grams of fat. The Ruperti family, on five mile in Livonia, has been raising and selling turkeys since 1948.

Last week we mentioned sports talk show host Ron Cameron. Now we find out his show time has been changed to 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.

Bob Harris

Benny Speer

That's drive time sports talk with great guests like Red Wing Keith Primeau and Tiger Hall of Famer Ernie Harwell.

We also mentioned Plymouth High School grad Bob Olsen who owns Olsen's Realty World in Canton.

If you know someone from an area high school that has gone on to a successful career, let us know. Call Benny at 313-730-1627.

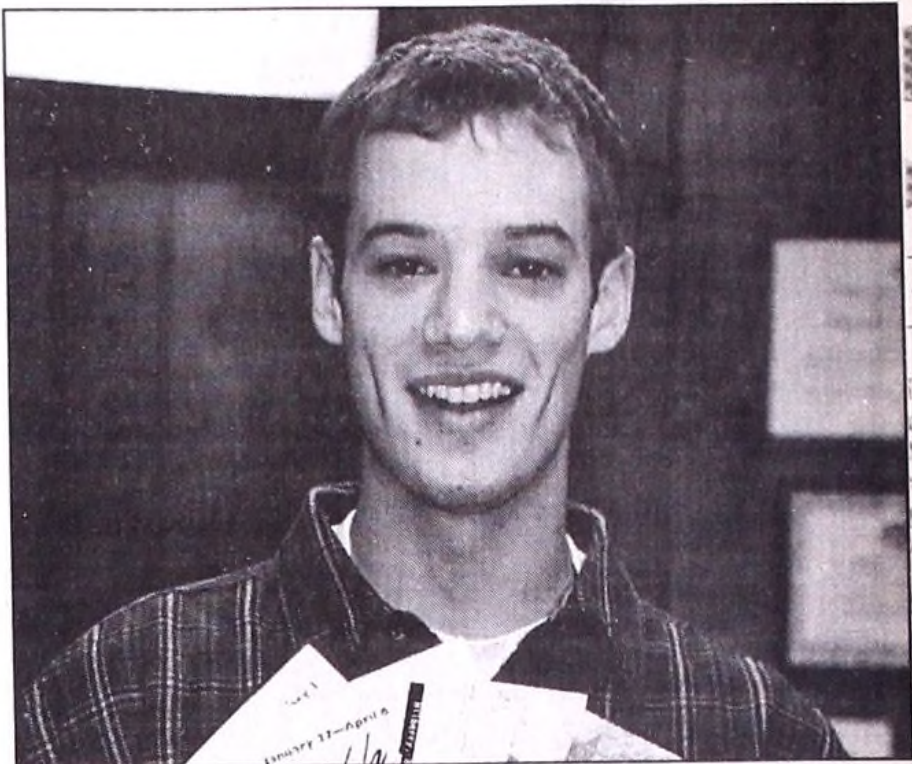

Remember Tiger outfielder Pat Sheridan of Wayne High. 1995 World Series Atlanta Braves Pitcher Steve Avery of Taylor High. Chris Campbell (Bob Seger's Band) and Tom Hulce (actor in Animal House and Amadeus)? They are all Plymouth High School graduates.

More Beatlemania: A newer, more refined 1990s version of the Beatles will be in Detroit at the North American International Auto Show in January.

The new updated version of the rear-engine classic called the Concept has been shown around the world including the recent Tokyo Motor show. The Concept will be built in Mexico and sold worldwide.

Remember the Center Stage on Ford Road in Canton. Rumors are our own Bob Harris (who has worked with everyone from Salem Witchcraft to the Rolling Stones, from Wayne Newton to Mr. Belvedere) will promote a series of shows in 1996 or as soon as New Year's Eve.

Congrats to Tim Dunn and Kathy Miller who were married Nov. 17. They went to Ohio for their honeymoon.

On stage Westland actor hopes to capture stardom

By RACHAEL LEWIS
MCN Special Writer

David Baca of Westland is definitely star struck.

A junior at Wayne State University, Baca is working towards his bachelor of fine and performing arts in theater, and he spends most of his time working toward his goals.

After receiving his BFA, Baca he would like to pursue his master's degree and eventually a doctorate. He is interested in all of the different aspects of the theater, including the technical and lighting design.

As many actors, he would like to act in New York or Los Angeles, but he says that he would ultimately like to teach at the university level for the job security.

Last summer, he did have a part of his dream come true by spending time and taking classes in New York City. He took singing and voice lessons at the Herbert Berghof Studio and dance classes at the Broadway Dance Studio of Alvin Ailey.

"This supplements my mainly classical education. I prefer the classical theater to musical theater but I wanted the diversity," he said.

Also while he was in New York, he saw many theater performances from which, he said, he learned a lot.

Dave Baca has many theater credits in his own right. One role he has played which he is particularly proud of is Howie Newsome of Our Town, performed at the Bonstelle Theatre.

Ford workers hang out at DJ's Lounge

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

It's no accident that DJ's Lounge (34830 Michigan Avenue, Wayne), the tavern with the longest bar – a 45-footer – and about the lowest beer prices in Wayne, is also the city's friendliest sports bar.

While the friendliness is enhanced by the homey decor – pine panelled walls, large tables that easily seat gangs of 10, a roomy dance floor that jumps on weekend nights, and an old-fashioned pool room where a game of nine ball still costs 50 cents – it's more likely that the friendliness evolved during 28 years of serving workers from Ford, other local companies, and their friends.

Owners Enoch and Gladys Doane, who both still work at Ford, bought the bar seven years ago after falling in love with it as regular customers.

"We bought it specifically for Ford workers," said Enoch, who priced 32-ounce Boom Booms of beer at $2.50 to accommodate workers' budgets.

After buying it, the Doane's remodeled it, adding six TVs, including three 4x8-foot wide screens, that give everybody in the 100-seat bar a perfect view of football and basketball game broadcasts. They built a stereo sound system into the ceiling so the games can be heard as well as seen.

And they built a larger, better equipped kitchen to beef up the menu. Thanks to the improvements, patrons are now as devoted to DJ's food as to its drink specials.

Since the renovations, DJ's one-third pound homemade hamburgers have surfaced as their most popular sandwich. Served open face on toasted and buttered buns with lettuce and tomatoes and sides of ridged chips, the grilled patties taste superb – thanks to a mild garlic seasoning.

Homemade soups are another favorite. Great Northern bean soup is served steaming in crocks every day. So is a meaty chili, which can be topped with cheddar cheese or chopped onions. Rich New England Clam Chowder soup is available on Fridays.

Monday Night Football leads the special parade with a bottle of beer for $1.50 and a pair of Coney dogs for $1.50.

On Tuesdays, usually hockey night, beer is still $1.50 and so are three different kinds of wings: wings of fire, breaded tabasco wings, and regular wings.

On Wednesdays, both beer and ground rounds are $1.50.

Ford night on Thursdays features all flavors of Schnapps for $1 a shot.

Live weekend entertainment features the pop and country music of Coal Train. On Sunday nights, karaoke is hosted by L.C., a Ford worker.

Seasonal events include DJ's annual benefit for the Goodfellows on Dec. 16. By raffling off donated gift items, DJ's will be raising money to make merry Christmases for needy area children.

And on New Year's Eve, a traditional celebration will be combined with a night of college football bowl games on the giant TVs. A live band will make the music. DJ's will provide the hats, the horns, and a buffet. For more information, call 721-2630.

DJ's owners Enoch and Gladys Doane, Center, both still work at Ford. June Emery, right, manages and helps cook.

This time of year is a happy occasion for most people. Thanksgiving and then the Christmas holiday, provide many activities and family gatherings to get excited about.

Mike's musings

Mike Wilcox

However, it is also the time of greatest depression. While we sing Christmas carols with our families and friends next to the Christmas tree that is adorned with dozens of brightly colored packages, others are faced with no family, no friends, no presents and an overwhelming feeling of emptiness.

A few years ago, some of us at Michigan Community Newspapers decided to spend a portion of the holiday season using the resources we had to make Christmas brighter for a few area residents. That effort resulted in satisfying the wishes of a dozen families. Last year, the effort expanded to help many more families.

This year through the generosity of many area merchants we have obtained funding to satisfy the wishes of over 100 families. Thus, if you are part of a family that is in need, or know of a family you would like to see helped, drop us a line. When writing, be very specific as to what gifts or wishes you would like to have fulfilled. Obviously, we can't help everyone, so those wishes that are the most realistic will be the first to be fulfilled.

Some of the items that have been purchased or donated in the last couple of years are automobiles, a grave marker, stoves, refrigerators, dozens of bicycles and, of course, many toys and enough food to feed an army.

Unfortunately the deadline to make a wish is this Friday, Nov. 24. People have been sending their wishes for the last two weeks and we have already accumulated over 150. We are, however, interested in your wish as well and will continue to accept wishes from all letters postmarked before midnight of the deadline day.

Letters can be address to: MCN "Christmas Wishes" Program, attention: Editorial Staff, Box 578, Wayne, Mich.. 48184. But hurry, time is running out.

Can you believe all the hype taking place over the Beatle mini-series and new album release? The phenomena known as Beatlemania was put to rest over 25 years ago, but now seems to have found new life amongst 1990s adults and teens yearning for a '60s lifestyle.

Although I watched and listed, I personally was not a big Beatles fan. My interest really didn't start to peak until the Beatles later years, in particular the Abbey Road album was played over and over on my turntable.

It was different, however, for our Weekender writer Bob Harris. Harris, a small-time promoter back then, spent a day with the Beatles before they climbed the stage to a sold-out audience at Olympia Stadium in 1966. His memories along with those of your neighbors and friends will be featured in this Sunday's Eyewitness. Pick it up at newsstands everywhere.

Congratulations to the Belleville varsity football team. Although they did not achieve their ultimate goal of winning the state title, the Tigers finished the season with only one loss, winning the Mega Conference's Red Division and advancing to the state quarter finals until suffering their lone defeat at the hands of Monroe.

Of note is the fact that Belleville had defeated Monroe easily earlier in the year. In the quarter finals, however, Belleville's fleet footed finesse offense was slowed considerably by the sleet, snow, wind and frozen tundra that we all experienced on Saturday, Nov. 11.

That loss aside, it was another great year for the Tigers. Your excellence on the playing field deserves special note. Thanks for the exciting year!

WHEN I SAID "EVERYONE" MUST FEEL THE BUDGET AXE... I MEANT EVERYONE ELSE!!

Candidate not Rotarian

To the editor:

It has been brought to our attention by many sources that Belleville Mayor-elect Dennis Fassett has inferred through his literature and speeches that he is affiliated with the Belleville Rotary Club. When questioned on this point he stated that he "was on a leave of absence."

Rotary records do not indicate that he ever requested a leave of absence nor do board minutes reflect that this subject was ever discussed. Mr. Fassett's membership was terminated as a result of non-attendance and failure to participate in Club programs. He has been requested to desist in claiming any form of affiliation with the Belleville Rotary Club.

We did not want to bring this into the open prior to the election because our Club did not wish to be involved in influencing the outcome of the election in any way.

The responsibilities of membership of a Rotarian are very important to all of us. We are the oldest and largest adult service organization in the world and we take our participation in Rotary very seriously. We do not profit personally by our Rotarian membership and we take a dim view of those who attempt to do so. Mr. Fassett's claim to Rotary affiliation is just not so.

Peter Quenet, secretary
Belleville Rotary Club

Tom Brown praised

To the editor:

In regards to the election, I do wish everyone the best.

I watch Channel 8 constantly and would like to say "keep up the good work".

However, I am writing this in regards to Tom Brown. I have known him for quite some time. I know what a good and kind gentleman he is.

Just because he lost the election, doesn't mean he's gone. I do hope you continue to have him sit in with you and absorb some of the knowledge he has gathered in his 14 years in office. He is a very caring and concerned citizen of Westland, and to that I say keep up the good work Mr. Brown.

sional coverage of our Polar Bear Women's Hockey Team. We all enjoyed reading about ourselves and were impressed at your attention to detail.

Feel free to join us after the game.

Halloween fun gone

To the editor:

What has happened to the good old-fashioned fun we had on Halloween? Incredibly this holiday is being ruined by a tiny faction of political correctness absolutists who are determined to dictate the behavior of our children by foisting their ideology upon our families.

If reactionary zealots are allowed to have their way, Halloween will become a mushy boring event. Surprisingly the NOW gang is demanding witches costumes be banned and some fundamentalists are requesting the removal of devils costumes.

Ultimately kids will only be permitted to wear costumes resembling Hillary Clinton, O.J. Simpson, Barbara Streisand, and Lorena Bobbitt. Immature absolutists will slither from their caves and prowl door-to-door threatening to burn houses if they are not given free enti-lements, national health insurance, and welfare benefits for illegal aliens. They will demonstrate in the streets and threaten to riot if they are not given equal justice and reparations.

Politically correct mothers will hand out free goodies such as condoms, birth control pills, sex education manuals describing strange lifestyles, cocaine, tickets for white water rafting, and coupons for tax-funded abortions. Politically correct fathers will give away marijuana, diapers for unwed teenage mothers on welfare, revisionist history books, the revised edition of the politically correct Bible, and advertisements for sleazy lawyers who are willing to grandstand for guilty clients.

Of course all pumpkins will be carved to resemble the faces of Peter Jennings, Colin Powell, President Clinton, and Jesse Jackson. Homes of conservative families will be egged, stoned, and outhouses overturned by the multicultural arrogant so-called politically correct hornswogglers. If Santa Claus is required to burn her bra to be accepted by the politically correct inner elite, what will happen to Christmas?

Each year, hundreds of children and young people are abducted and exploited. Their parents and family wait anxiously day after day for word of their child who was so viciously taken from their home. The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children is in the business of publicizing and ultimately solving these mysterious disappearances. The Center, based in Virginia, is responsible for most of the missing children advertisements which you see on milk cartons, billboards and such. The photographs on this page were taken from the files of the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children. They are all actively being sought by their parents, with very few leads. These children may be living in your neighborhood, attending your church, or even sitting next to your child in school. They are out there somewhere. Anyone with information concerning the whereabouts of any of these children is asked to call the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children at 1-800-843-5678. If your child is missing, call your local police department right away. If your child is at home, hug them and tell them about the danger of the world and teach them to be safe.

Thanks to these local businesses for sponsoring these missing children

Airtime

Van Buren police honor the 'Breakfast Club'

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

It's 8:30 a.m. on a Tuesday, and you're listening to the radio. If ratings are any indication, you're probably tuned in to WNIC.

A recent survey of radio listeners shows the nine-year old Breakfast Club is the number one morning show in the Detroit area. Jim Harper, Linda Lanci and Stacey Duford have been the crew of the show for the past five years.

Along with playing light rock music and making their listeners laugh, Harper and his crew also do plenty of community service.

The Breakfast Club has helped promote several events for the Van Buren Police Department, such as the No Excuses seat belt drive. Officer Jim Haney has given a Halloween safety message on the air for three years.

If you were listening on Nov. 17, you know that Officer Haney and Detective Roy Schroeder were on the radio giving the message about the MADD campaign called "drunk drivers, we have your number." The new anti-drunk driving program allows citizens to report drunk drivers by dialing 9-1-1.

Aside from the message, Haney and Schroeder were there to present The Breakfast Club with an award for outstanding community service. Harper credits the success of the morning show with, "Consistency. We have been doing the same thing for a number of years. People appreciate consistency with things outside being so hectic. To plug into consistency is a real positive thing."

When you hear them on the radio, laughing and teasing each other, they are actually having fun. It's not just an act. "It sure beats working," Harper said.

As an officer on the Detroit police force, Haney met Harper a number of years ago when he did public service announcements for the police department.

"We try to do as much as we can," Harper said. "There is always something going on in the communities. We want to keep the lines of communication open. It's important to give something back. "I'm happy people are listening, and I hope to be here a long time."

According to Officer Haney,

the No Excuses project was a success. The police departments in the area were in a competition to see who had the most success getting the word out about the project. With Harper's help, the Van Buren Police Department has been awarded three new radar units which will be arriving soon.

Seasonal blues

Many suffer depression during and after the holiday season

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

Although red and green are the traditional Christmas holiday colors, for some people, the season is colored "blue."

While those around them are in good spirits celebrating the holiday, for those who have suffered the loss of a spouse, are separated from their families or who pine for the "old days," Christmas is a "blue" season. Their sad spirits seem to sink even lower as they observe the happiness around them and observe others enjoying the season.

There are several steps that people can take to boost their spirits during the holidays.

It is normal to have periods of discouragement, but lengthy periods of depression should be discussed with a doctor or psychotherapist.

First, take an inventory of yourself and write down how you see yourself and how you would like to change. Then, implement those changes.

For example, if you are unhappy because you do not have social engagements during the holidays, make some definite plans to do something. Set a time and day to visit friends, invite people to your home, visit Greenfield Village and see a play or movie. Include others who are also experiencing loneliness -- a recent widow, divorcee or someone who has just moved into town.

If this is your first holiday season alone, try to do something different from previous holiday seasons. Don't hold onto traditions if they make you feel lonely or depressed. For example, if you always decorated your tree in a traditional manner, try a whimsical theme or a modern touch.

Share your time with someone who is also wants to socialize. For example, a woman who lives in a senior citizens complex recently called the newspaper and said her holiday wish is for someone to take her out to dinner, a concert or shopping.

People can also share their holiday by contributing to the Goodfellows, the Salvation Army or to a church or club holiday project. They can also volunteer to help with the distribution -- wrapping or delivering packages, driving volunteers to project sites, manning a collection station or performing clerical services for the group.

Reach out to new people and renew your acquaintances with old friends by phone call, letter or card.

Have realistic expectations for the holiday. Friends or relatives who are not thoughtful during the rest of the year, will not miraculously become thoughtful individuals during the holidays. Also, siblings who quarrel year-round, will probably continue to do so during the holidays. No matter how much we wish for "peace on earth, good will toward men" during the holidays, it may not be a realistic expectation for every household.

Hands-on technique

Mr. Wizard enters science classrooms of 2000 with unique approach

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

"What a wonderfully honest and 'true to life' approach to teaching. It was great to see a teacher in action, teaching students the way they should be taught. It was powerful and right on target. It brought out the very best in our teachers."

Those are just some of the comments from teachers throughout the U.S. who are raving about one of the most unique cable programs in this decade that is geared to offering students a hands-on approach to science-Teacher to Teacher with Mr. Wizard.

The innovative, educational video series provides candid, close-up and in-depth visits to classrooms of outstanding elementary teachers using hands-on, inquiry-based techniques to teach science.

Host, Don Herbert, introduces each program, and then the teacher takes over and talks directly to fellow teachers while revealing the special methods used to excite young students about science and learning.

Mr. Wizard has entered the classroom doors of schools in Plymouth-Canton, Wayne-Westland and many other districts throughout the U.S. on the Nickelodeon cable channel.

This year the show has won the National Council on Family Relations award and the Gold Cindy award from the Association of Visual Communications.

Dennis Harlan, co-executive producer and president of the Mr. Wizard Foundation, is ecstatic that teachers around the country are trying to make learning as fun as possible by letting students sit in the driver seat while working on a science project.

"It all started with my daughter, Heather, when she came home from school at the end of first grade, and told me science was boring and for boys," said Harlan. "That was very alarming to me. I said to myself, 'What did this school do to turn my kid off to science in nine months.'

"And, you have to understand why. This is a girl whose adopted grandpa is Mr. Wizard, Don Herbert. We go to his house, and he has two acres in this canon. We walk out and explore things. We see animals and critters. I decided to do something about it."

For 18 months Harlan searched for answers. He traveled around the country visiting various schools to find out what other teachers are doing in their classrooms to make science exciting.

"Before I started my traveling, I went to the University of Michigan for about three months and started researching everything there is to know about science education through ERIC (Educational Research Information Center)," said Harlan. "What I learned was that there was an agreement between researchers and educators on how children learn, people learn and what should be going on in the classroom as it relates to science education."

Harlan also found out that there were a handful of schools that were identified as exemplary school systems in relation to their science program.

"We're talking hands-on science programs," Harlan said. "I was curious to find out what these school systems look like. Of course, with my history with Don Herbert since 1979, I know what science is, and it's not mesmerizing facts. It's a way of learning. It's how you analyze, observe, predict and experiment with tests.

"I plotted out on the map where I wanted to go."

Harlan's curiosity lead him to many interesting school districts including those in Schaumburg, Ill., Spencerport, N.Y., Mesa, Arizona and Fairfax, Va.

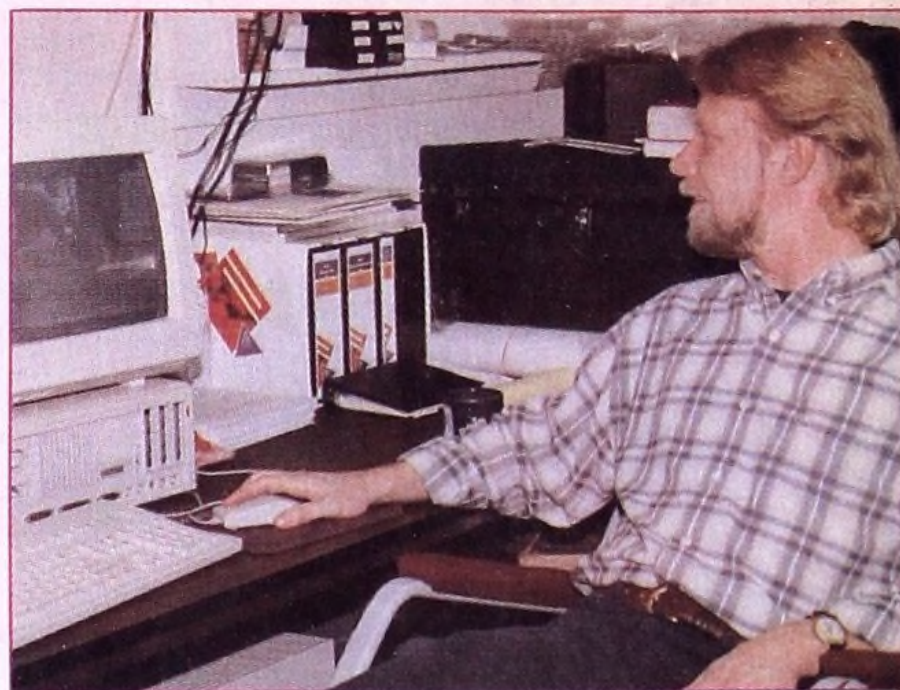

He interviewed the various teachers about their teaching methods. He met with science coordinators and asked hundreds of questions about how their school districts supported teachers.

What he discovered is a method of teaching science best described as hands-on and inquiry-based.

"These teachers were not using textbooks as a base," said Harlan. "The school systems all provided materials to teachers so they didn't have to buy the straws, the paperclips,

Facts about Mr. Wizard

Don Herbert graduated from the University of Wisconsin at La Crosse with a bachelor of science degree qualified to teach general science and English.

During World War II, he flew 56 missions as a bomber pilot, achieved the rank of captain and was awarded the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

After his military service, he was active in Chicago radio as a performer and writer and was radio director of the Community Fund.

In 1951, Herbert created and was featured in the half-hour weekly television program, Watch Mr. Wizard, on the NBC network.

Assisted by a young boy or girl, he entertained viewers using household items to explore the magic and mystery of science in everyday living, the program's subtitle.

The series was a public affairs program, telecast live and in black and white from studios in Chicago.

In 1955 Herbert moved to Bronxville, NY and the program originated from New York City.

During the 14-year run, Herbert presented more than 4,500 science demonstrations.

Starting 1952 and for the next eight years, Herbert was the Progress reporter on the General Electric Theater, hosted by Ronald Reagan, Sunday nights on CBS.

Since their marriage in 1972, Herbert and his wife, Norma, have worked closely together. His writing, production and performing talents combined with her extensive marketing experience and expertise enabled them to successfully launch and administer the following projects:

- In 1973, with a grant from the National Science Foundation, they wrote and filmed 50 30-second Mr. Wizard Close-Ups for children on NBC.

IAN GOLD

Belleville running back Ian Gold is the consummate football player. He can do almost anything on a football field, and some day soon, you probably will be watching him do his thing Sunday afternoons or Monday evenings. Gold will be named to just about every Dream Team sports writers and editors can conjure up in football. In his senior year at Belleville.

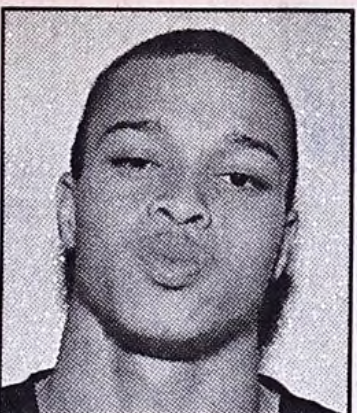

JOE MANUEL

An unselfish player who, like teammate Ian Gold, Belleville's Joe Manuel rushed for 1,041 yards and accounted for 10 TDs. An unanimous Mega Conference, Red Division choice for the past two years, Manuel was called upon early in the season to provide the blocking in the backfield for his teammates.

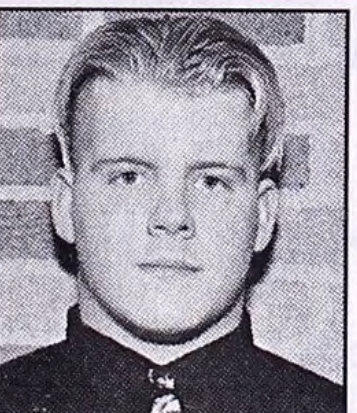

LORENZO GUESS

A rare athletic talent who can do just about anything with a football or a basketball, Wayne Memorial's Lorenzo Guess was definitely the center attraction on this year's team. The 6-3, 185-pound junior completed his third year as a member of coach Chuck Howton's varsity football squad. Coaches in the Mega Conference, Red Division, where power-laden Belleville and Monroe.

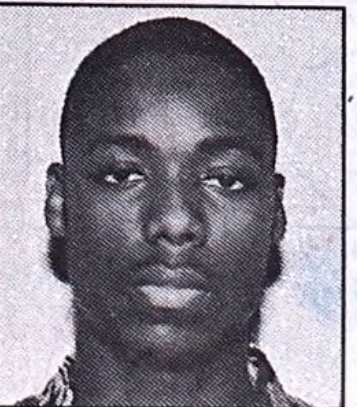

JEFF COOK

A fierce competitor, John Glenn's veteran tackle, Jeff Cook was also inducted into the all-Western Lakes Conference team this year as a center where he displayed outstanding ability and knowledge of the game. Cook, a 5-10, 220-pound senior captain, also was a standout as a tackle on defense where his stat sheet shows him for 46 first-hits and four sacks of the quarterback.

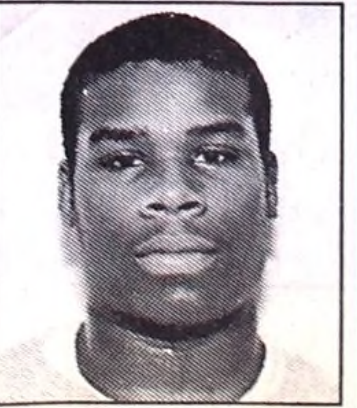

RICHARD RASHAD

With sure hands and deceptive speed, Wayne Memorial's junior tight end Richard Rashad is already being looked upon as a Division I candidate. The 6-4, 190-pound junior has still another year of eligibility ahead of him, and next year should rewrite most of Wayne's records. "As a wide receiver, you can't beat him," said coach Chuck Howton.

DERRICK AGURS

No opposing quarterback or ball carrier feared any defensive lineman as they did Belleville's Derrick Agurs, a 6-4, 265-pound senior. Agurs counted four sacks of the QB and picked up 58 tackles and also had an interception during the 1995 campaign. "He's a devastating blocker on offense and has few equals on defense," said Belleville coach Bob LaPointe.

Belleville's LaPointe is coach of year

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The message is clear: If you're going to play a team coached by Bob LaPointe, you better come ready to play.

The 50-year-old LaPointe has taken a Belleville football program that didn't know the meaning of winning and turned it into one of the most respected powers in the state.

For three of the four years LaPointe has coached the Tigers, they have muscled their way into the state rankings.

In the past two years alone, the Tigers have compiled an incredible 19-2 record under the guidance of the veteran coach. Since LaPointe has come to Belleville - it's been four years now - Belleville has not had a losing season.

After his baptismal as the Tiger coach in 1992, when LaPointe's first Belleville team went 5-4, the Tigers have fought back to a 7-2 year in 1993 before winning back-to-back Mega Conference, Red Division championship by virtue of 9-1 (1994) and 10-1 in

Bill LaPointe

1995. What is the secret to LaPointe's coaching success? (No, he is the first to admit that he doesn't have a magic wand hidden some where.)

Not since the legendary Harry Hidenfelter who coached at Belleville in the late 1950s and early 1960s has there been a coach at Belleville who has generated so much enthusiasm and following as has LaPointe.

What then is the secret? "No secret," LaPointe

ROB JOHNSON

When you're the unanimous choice for QB in one of the toughest football leagues - the Western Lakes Conference, you know you have to be good. And Plymouth-Canton's Rob Johnson proved he was the best and received the call by the coaches this year for the QB spot. The 6-4, 195 junior will be back next year to improve upon his record that includes 68 pass completions out of 157.

TOM BISH

Playing hurt for most of the season, the injury or the opponents didn't stop 6-5, 225-pound Plymouth-Salem senior Tom Bish. Bish, named by coaches to the all-Western Lakes Conference team, played both ways for coach Tom Moshimer's team. A two-way starter on the line on offense, he also starred on defense where he counted three sacks of the QB.

RYAN EVANS

You can only speculate what Romulus senior quarterback Ryan Evans would have accomplished on a team like Belleville or Westland John Glenn this season. The 6-2, 185-pound senior Romulus QB connected on 13 TD passes and finished with 1,378 yards. He also ran for six touchdowns to become the most productive QB in recent Romulus history.

JAY JACKSON

Glenn's Jay Jackson has many assets he quick, elusive and knows the game. The 5-5, 150-pound tailback rushed for 1,054 yards and scored 10 touchdowns en route to All-Western Lakes Division glory. But the one asset that coach Chuck Gordon points to about Jackson is "that he has a lot of potential to become one of our best."

NICK NYSCHICK

One of the co-captains on the 1995 Wayne Memorial squad, Nick Nyschick is a 6-0, 210-pound guard who coached had moonlight as a tackle on defense. "Our opponents respected him," said coach Chuck Howton. "He is one player you could always rely on, someone who never let you down." A two-year varsity starter, Nyschick also provided the Zebras with leadership.

RANDY MACK

Plymouth-Salem's MVP, 6-1, 160-pound senior Randy Mack was the Rocks' all-purpose player this season. Utilized as a wide receiver and also playing tailback during part of the campaign for Coach Tom Moshimer's team, Mack caught 12 passes for 160-yards, and also rushed for 448-yards for a 5.5 average per try. An All-Western Lakes Division player.

RON HUNTER

An outstanding talent at wide receiver, Plymouth-Canton senior Ron Hunter is a major reason why the Chiefs remained in the Western Lakes Conference title hunt until the final weeks. The 6-3, 195-pound senior collected 47 passes for a total of 875 yards and 10 touchdowns. He also scored two TDs off of punt returns and turned a fake punt into a six-pointer for a total of 13 TDs.

RODNEY KOMAROMI

A versatile athlete who earned All-Area recognition as a grappler, Belleville's Rodney Komaromi is one of the toughest linebackers on the prep scene this year. A two-year starter for coach Bob LaPointe, Komaromi's contributions to the two-time conference champs include 40 tackles. The 6-1, 185-pound outside linebacker also caused five fumbles and recovered three.

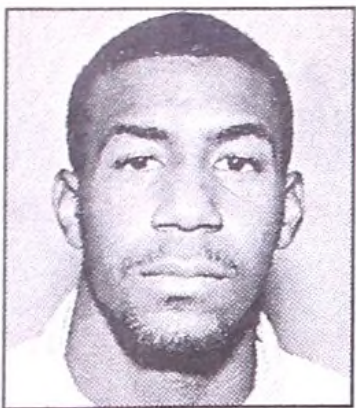

KIRK CRAGGS

A tight end who is switched to free safety on defense, Plymouth-Salem's Kirk Craggs has been a member of the Plymouth-Salem varsity squad for the past two years. As a tight end, Craggs hauled in 16 passes for 224-yards and two touchdowns. Eight of the catches were good for first downs. Craggs' credentials also impressed the Western-Lakes Conference coaches.

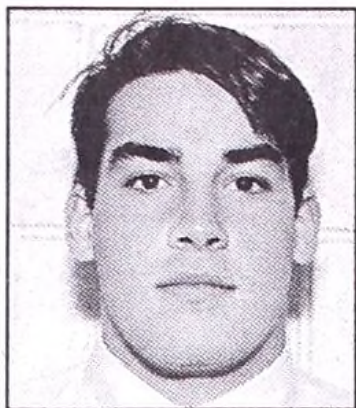

VINCE LEE

With the season in jeopardy because of a lack of players, Inkster's Vince Lee managed to rally and solidify the Vikings despite the odds. Inkster managed to pull out two victories despite a roster that included less than 15 players at times. Lee, a free safety who was called upon to handle the quarterbacking chores, is a 6-1, 170-pound senior who also excels in the classroom.

KRIS HORNICK

An outstanding college prospect, Plymouth-Canton senior tackle Kris Hornick was also the coaches' choice for all-Western Lakes Conference accolades. His credentials include 40 solo tackles, 14 assists, three fumble recoveries as well as two caused fumbles. Kris also carded three sacks of the quarterback and blocked three passes.

SHAWN DYER

An all-Lakes Division candidate, Plymouth-Canton's Shawn Dyer co-captained the Chiefs to a second-place finish in their division. The exemplary nose guard finished his senior campaign with 38 solo tackles, 21 assists, five sacks of the quarterback and was merciless to those who penetrated his perimeter. "He very quick and can read a player better than most."

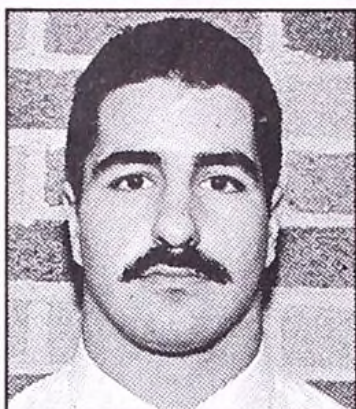

MIKE SOSNOWSKI

Providing the leadership on Westland John Glenn's club this year, senior captain Mike Sosnowski is a three-year starter for coach Chuck Gordon's Rockets. An All-Western Lakes Conference selection as a lineman on offense, Sosnowski rarely rested as he was called upon to hold down a linebacker's spot on defense.

MATT GRIGLIO

Few know football as well as Matt Griglio, the 5-11, 200-pound John Glenn junior linebacker who provided the spark that kept the Rockets in the Western Lakes Conference title race right to the end. The Rockets' leading tackler for the second straight year, Griglio also was drafted by the coaches for the Western Lakes Conference team.

FRANK LEWICKI

Plymouth-Salem opponents got the message early - you don't trespass in defensive halfback Frank Lewicki's zone. The veteran Salem back made opponents pay for their transgressions. Considered the Rocks' best defensive halfback, Lewicki had 71 assists and caused two fumbles in a season where opposing quarterbacks would challenge him discriminately.

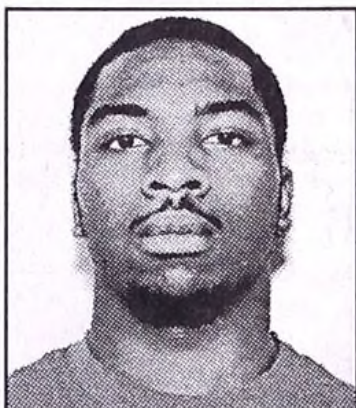

KEVIN GRIMM

All-Lakes Division defensive tackle Kevin Grimm used his speed to get to the ball faster, and that ability convinced the tough Western Lakes Conference coaches that the 5-8, 165-pound senior has the grit to play with the best of them. A starter for the past two years, Grimm managed to cut through the offense like a surgeon.

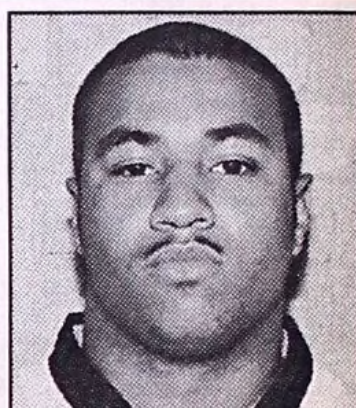

ERIC SUMMERS

A two-way starter for Belleville, 6-4, 220-pound senior Eric Summers was comfortable playing either way. As a tight end he was tough, and as a linebacker, he was a force to be reckoned with. Summers counted 86 tackles, two interceptions, caused three fumbles and also tipped three passes en route to a Mega Conference, Red Division berth.

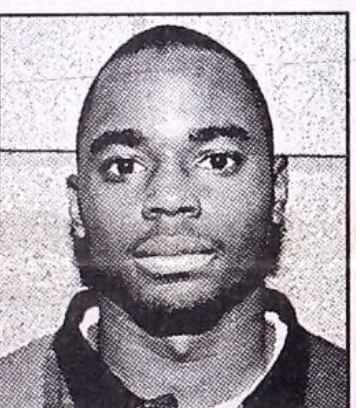

OMAR SPEIGHT

The "bread-and-butter" of Robichaud's offense, running back Omar Speight led the Bulldogs to their final Suburban Athletic Conference championship, a championship they would later have to forfeit because of an apparent ineligible player. The 5-10, 210-pound senior rushed for 847 yards on 145 attempts and scored 12 touchdowns.

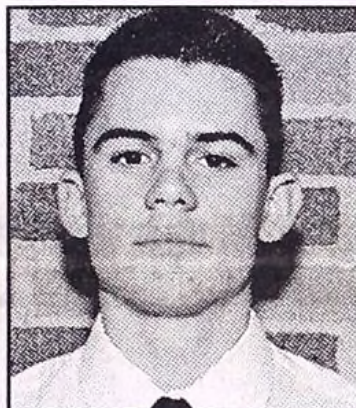

ROY CHAMBERS

Romulus senior Roy Chambers is the kind of player who any coach would be happy to have in the lineup. A 5-9, 180-pound senior, Chambers played flanker and also strong safety for the Eagles who made their debut in the Mega Conference, Red Division this season. As a strong safety, Chambers put away 72 tackles and also intercepted twice.

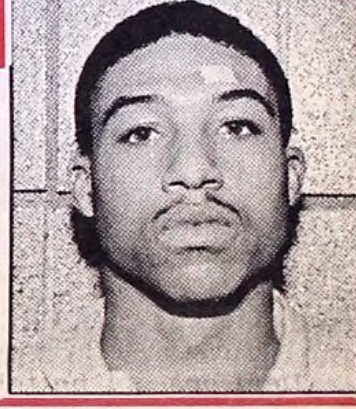

BERNIE TOBY

You would have search long and hard to find a player who plays the game better than John Glenn's Bernie Toby. Toby, a 5-9, 140-pound senior led the Rockets in interceptions with four, and when he wasn't busy stealing QB passes, he was returned punt and kickoffs for the Rockets. "Our opponents respected Toby for his aggressiveness and his ability to analyze the play as it developed."

JAMAL BAILEY

Among the names you'll find in the "most dedicated" file is that of Jamal Bailey, a 5-10, 178-pound senior who has two years of varsity experience at Romulus High. A split end who also doubles as a cornerback on defense, Bailey amassed 1,046 yards and scored 10 touchdowns. His longest TD run was a sensational 99-yarder scored in a winning performance against Woodhaven. "Jamal works hard and is very dedicated to football," said Romulus first-year coach Mark Woodson. "He has all of the tools to make it in college."

says. "I have a dedicated staff and a supportive administration and community. And for the first time, there is some continuity in the program. And that's very important to the kids."

"These kids know what it's like to win. And they are willing to work toward that end."

LaPointe also revealed another reason for the Tiger success story.

"Unlike some places, where coaches don't like to share athletes, we have here at Belleville just the opposite. For example, basketball coach Mike Garland not only wants but expects his players to go out for football. If you look at our lineup, it's filled with Garland's basketball players.

LaPointe stresses that communication and cooperation between the coaches, excellent athletes, and a dedicated coaching staff enhance the chances of fielding a winning team.

"One man can't build a program," LaPointe adds.

That may be so, but one man can make a big difference. Ask anyone in Belleville and the area. And, for making the difference at Belleville, the Michigan Community Newspapers is proud to name Coach Bob LaPointe as the its Coach of the Year in football for the 1995 season.

Glenn losses to Garden City, 55-30

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

The Westland-John Glenn girls basketball team ended a rough season, losing to Garden City, 55-38.

John Glenn's coach, Andrew Denison said, "We started slow, and never really got into the flow of the game. There were a lot of turnovers in the first quarter. I'd never seen the girls play in a District game, they were nervous. I was real suprised they weren't agres-sive. I guess that's what playing in the Districts will do to you."

In the game, which was played at Garden City, Nov. 15, Garden City struck first, with two points from the foul line. They followed this with a two point basket and two at the foul line again. The Rockets didn't manage a basket until 4:33, when Jami Grigal shot for two points. Garden City domi-nated the first quarter, 16-8.

Denison said he told the girls, "We have to take care of the ball, stop playing scared. They seemed to play a little better in the second, and we were only down by ten at one point."

At half-time, Garden City was leading John Glenn, 27-15.

The Rockets didn't score in the third quarter until 3:15, when Grigal put in another two points. The senior scored John Glenn's only other basket in the quarter as well. The score was 38-19 going into the final quarter.

For the first time in the game, the Rockets scored the first points, as Rochelle Harris registered two points. She hit a three-pointer shortly later. Garden City dominated the quarter, as they had the rest of the game, and advanced to the championship game with Wayne Memorial.

Denison said after the game, "I told them how disappointed I was with how the season ended for us. But, I also told them how happy I was that they didn't quit. They stuck with it and tried to do what I asked them to. I really felt bad that my lack of experience proba-bly hurt them at times. I apolo-gized for things I may have done wrong. You learn as you go, it's a part of life."

The coach said he has al-ready begun thinking about next year. "I have a lot of work to do to generate interest at the high school."

Tigers to make tracks in Florida

The Belleville Marching Ti-gers have been selected to per-form at the college football Outback Bowl Game in Tampa, Fla., on Jan. 1, 1996.

This will be their third col-lege bowl game performance in the past five years. In addi-tion to the half-time perfor-mance, the band will be performing at Epcot Center in Walt Disney World as well as in the National Outback Bowl Parade.

Between performances and rehearsals, the week-long trip also includes a trip to Busch Gardens, a water park, an eve-ning dinner show.

Warm up for March Madness with a little November Neurosis.

Eight of the top teams from last year's NCAA tournament will be tipping off the season with a two day shoot-out at The Palace. Tickets are available at Ticketmaster outlets, The Palace box office or by calling 810-377-0100.

Wayne enjoys year, loses in district championship

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

After beating up on Romulus in the district play-offs, 48-14, Wayne Memorial was defeated by Garden City, 44-38 in the district championship.

Coach Chuck Henry said, "It was not one of our better games. It just didn't work out for us."

High scorers for the Zebras were Yolanda Holt (21) and Tonya Crawford (11).

Henry said Garden City's ability to shut down Wayne's high scorers contributed to the loss.

"They did a pretty good job gearing their defense on the girls who are capable of scoring for our team. Rica Barge only scored three points. If the girls don't score a lot of points for us, we're in trouble."

The game against Romulus went much smoother for the Zebras. The girls from Wayne even managed a shut-out in the first quarter, then kept Romulus to only 14 points the rest of the game.

Holt and Barge were named All-Conference and Sandy Jackson was given Honorable Mention.

Henry said he hasn't begun thinking about next year yet. "The girls can relax a little for a month or two. Then we'll start getting ready for next year."

Swimmers compete at state competition

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

John Glenn's Adrienne Turri, Kristen Stone and Sarah Coombs made an appearance at the state swimming competition Nov. 17.

It was Turri's second visit to the state meet. Last year as a freshman, she took fourth place in the backstroke. This year, Turri finished fourth once again, beaten by the same three girls who beat her last year. In the preliminary races, she swam her personal best at 59.03. The next day, in the finals, Turri finished at 59.13.

According to coach Ron Staple, "The backstroke was loaded with talent this year. Adrienne was the youngest person in the competition. This was the first time that all six of the finalists were seeded at 59.99 or lower going into the finals. This means they all had to swim very fast in the finals to compete."

He added, "Adrienne is a very dedicated swimmer and athlete. She knows what it takes. She lifts weights, and works out in the off season."

Stone made her first visit to the state meet a memorable one. Going into the meet, she was seeded as 35th in the state. She swam her personal best in the 50 free style (25.63), and wound up being 25th in the state. "She improved greatly, and swam a great race. We are real impressed with her," Staple said. "It was a great experience for Kristen. She won her heat, and she wasn't supposed to."

Coombs, a diver for the Rockets, was seeded as number 30 last year. She improved on that to move up to 28th this year. Coombs was 12th at the diving regionals to qualify for state.

"It was an exciting week for the coaches and the girls," Staple said. "It's always nice to have girls qualify. We got to see the best of the best at this meet."

Even though this year has just finished up, Staple is already looking forward to next year. He said that Turri, Stone and Coombs will be back next year, and he is looking forward to getting the medley relay team and some more divers to qualify in 1996. "We are trying to get the girls into a year round weight program. We keep reminding them that there is always someone out there on the next level. They need to come up to that level with a diet and exercise program."

Wayne Memorial's Kasey Holt lead for 10 rounds in the diving competition of the Mega Conference finals. One mistake on her final dive dropped her to second place. The Zebras took sixth place overall in finals. MCN photo by Lori Gillespie

Youths wishes to come true by Kathie's Secret

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

A Wayne business is making sure that the wishes of children will come true this holiday season.

Kathie's Secret, 4476 Treadwell, is having a Haircut Celebration 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Dec. 10 to benefit the Make A Wish Foundation.

"This is our first year here having this benefit," said Kathie's owner Linda Scroi. "We just want to help as many children as we can through the Make A Wish Foundation."

Last year, while working at another hair establishment, Scroi and her daughter, Kathie were able to gather funds for Make A Wish, and they wanted to continue to assist children of all ages.

"All the proceeds from our Haircut Celebration will be donated to Make A Wish," said Scroi. "We want to be able to make a special child's Christmas wish come true. I think if we all work together, we can help a lot of children."

From haircuts to a shampoo and style, Kathie's Secret has expert stylists on hand to create any look their client desires.

"Haircuts are $8 and a shampoo and style is $9," said Scroi. "We will also have a wish tree set up inside the salon. We're asking area residents to drop in Nov. 24 through Dec. 11 and choose a needy child's name off of the tree and then buy them a gift to make their Christmas special this year."

All the children whose names will appear on the wish tree were selected by the Salvation Army. Anyone participating in the wish program must bring their gift to Kathie's Secret by Dec. 18 in order to ensure delivery.

"Let's all get the Christmas spirit early and make a child happy this year," said Scroi.

Thanksgiving travel expected to be low

The number of Michiganders who hit the roads and take the skies during the upcoming 102-hour Thanksgiving holiday weekend will equal or slightly surpass last year's levels, according to estimates.

"Traditionally, about 20 percent of Michigan residents—or 1.8 million people—take a trip of 50 miles or more during the upcoming holiday weekend," said AAA Michigan Travel Director Bill Best.

"That includes residents driving to grandmother's house up north for dinner as well as those flying home for the holiday," Best said.

Since Thanksgiving is primarily spent with family and friends, no one destination is surfacing as the only holiday "hot spot," Best said. But airline bookings to most domestic destinations have been brisk.

"For those not visiting relatives, Florida and Caribbean bookings have been high, as they always are during the winter months," Best said. "Las Vegas is also a popular destination this holiday because of the inexpensive four-day charters available."

The best airfare deals still available for Thanksgiving may be for those willing to travel during off-peak times, such as Thanksgiving Day or the day after the holiday. Travelers are urged to scan newspapers or on-line computer services daily for sales or airfare wars and don't forget to check with their travel agent.

Detroit Metropolitan Airport is expected to be congested during the holiday weekend, particularly the Tuesday and Wednesday before (Nov. 21 and 22), and the following Sunday (Nov. 26). The Auto Club urges travelers to arrive at the airport at least 1 1/2 hours before their flight to find parking and check baggage. Metro Airport maintains a 24-hour parking hotline (1-800-642-1978) and offers updates on radio dial 920 AM when travelers are within three-to four miles of the airport.

Thanksgiving Day traffic will also be heavy on the roadways, so the club urges motorists to leave earlier than usual for their destination. During last year's holiday weekend, 21 persons died in 19 crashes on state roads, down from 29 killed in 21 crashes in 1993. Of the 17 victims with safety belts available, 12 were not buckled up and five of the deaths were alcohol-related.

Holiday drivers will find gasoline prices lower than they were last Thanksgiving. A gallon of regular-serve unleaded currently averages $1.076 statewide, compared to $1.107 last year.

Michigan Education Trust to reopen for families

The Board of the Michigan Education Trust (MET) voted to accept applications for new MET contracts. MET provides a pre-paid tuition savings program for Michigan families to save for future college tuition costs. This is the first time since 1990 that the program has been opened for new enrollees.

"Opening MET at this time makes sense given recent court rulings which strengthen the fiscal soundness of the program," said Douglas B. Roberts, state treasurer and chairman of the MET board. "New enrollees will have substantially the same program that has been offered in the past, with pricing set to give reasonable assurance that the program will remain solvent until the enrollees need to use their benefits."

"It is important, however, for purchasers to understand that a MET contract is not a guarantee," Roberts said. "This is a pre-paid tuition program that has some tax advantages and should be considered by families saving toward future college costs. As always, each family should review all their financial options before deciding on which one fits their needs the best."

The MET board authorized three separate contract plans, including:

- Full Benefits Contract: Will provide full tuition and mandatory fees for students enrolled in Michigan public colleges and universities or will provide a refund to private or out-of-state college on behalf of the student.

- Limited Benefits Contract: Will provide up to 105 percent of the weighted average tuition (of Michigan public four-year universities) toward the tuition and mandatory fees for students enrolled in Michigan public colleges and universities or will provide a refund to a private or out-of-state college on behalf of the student.

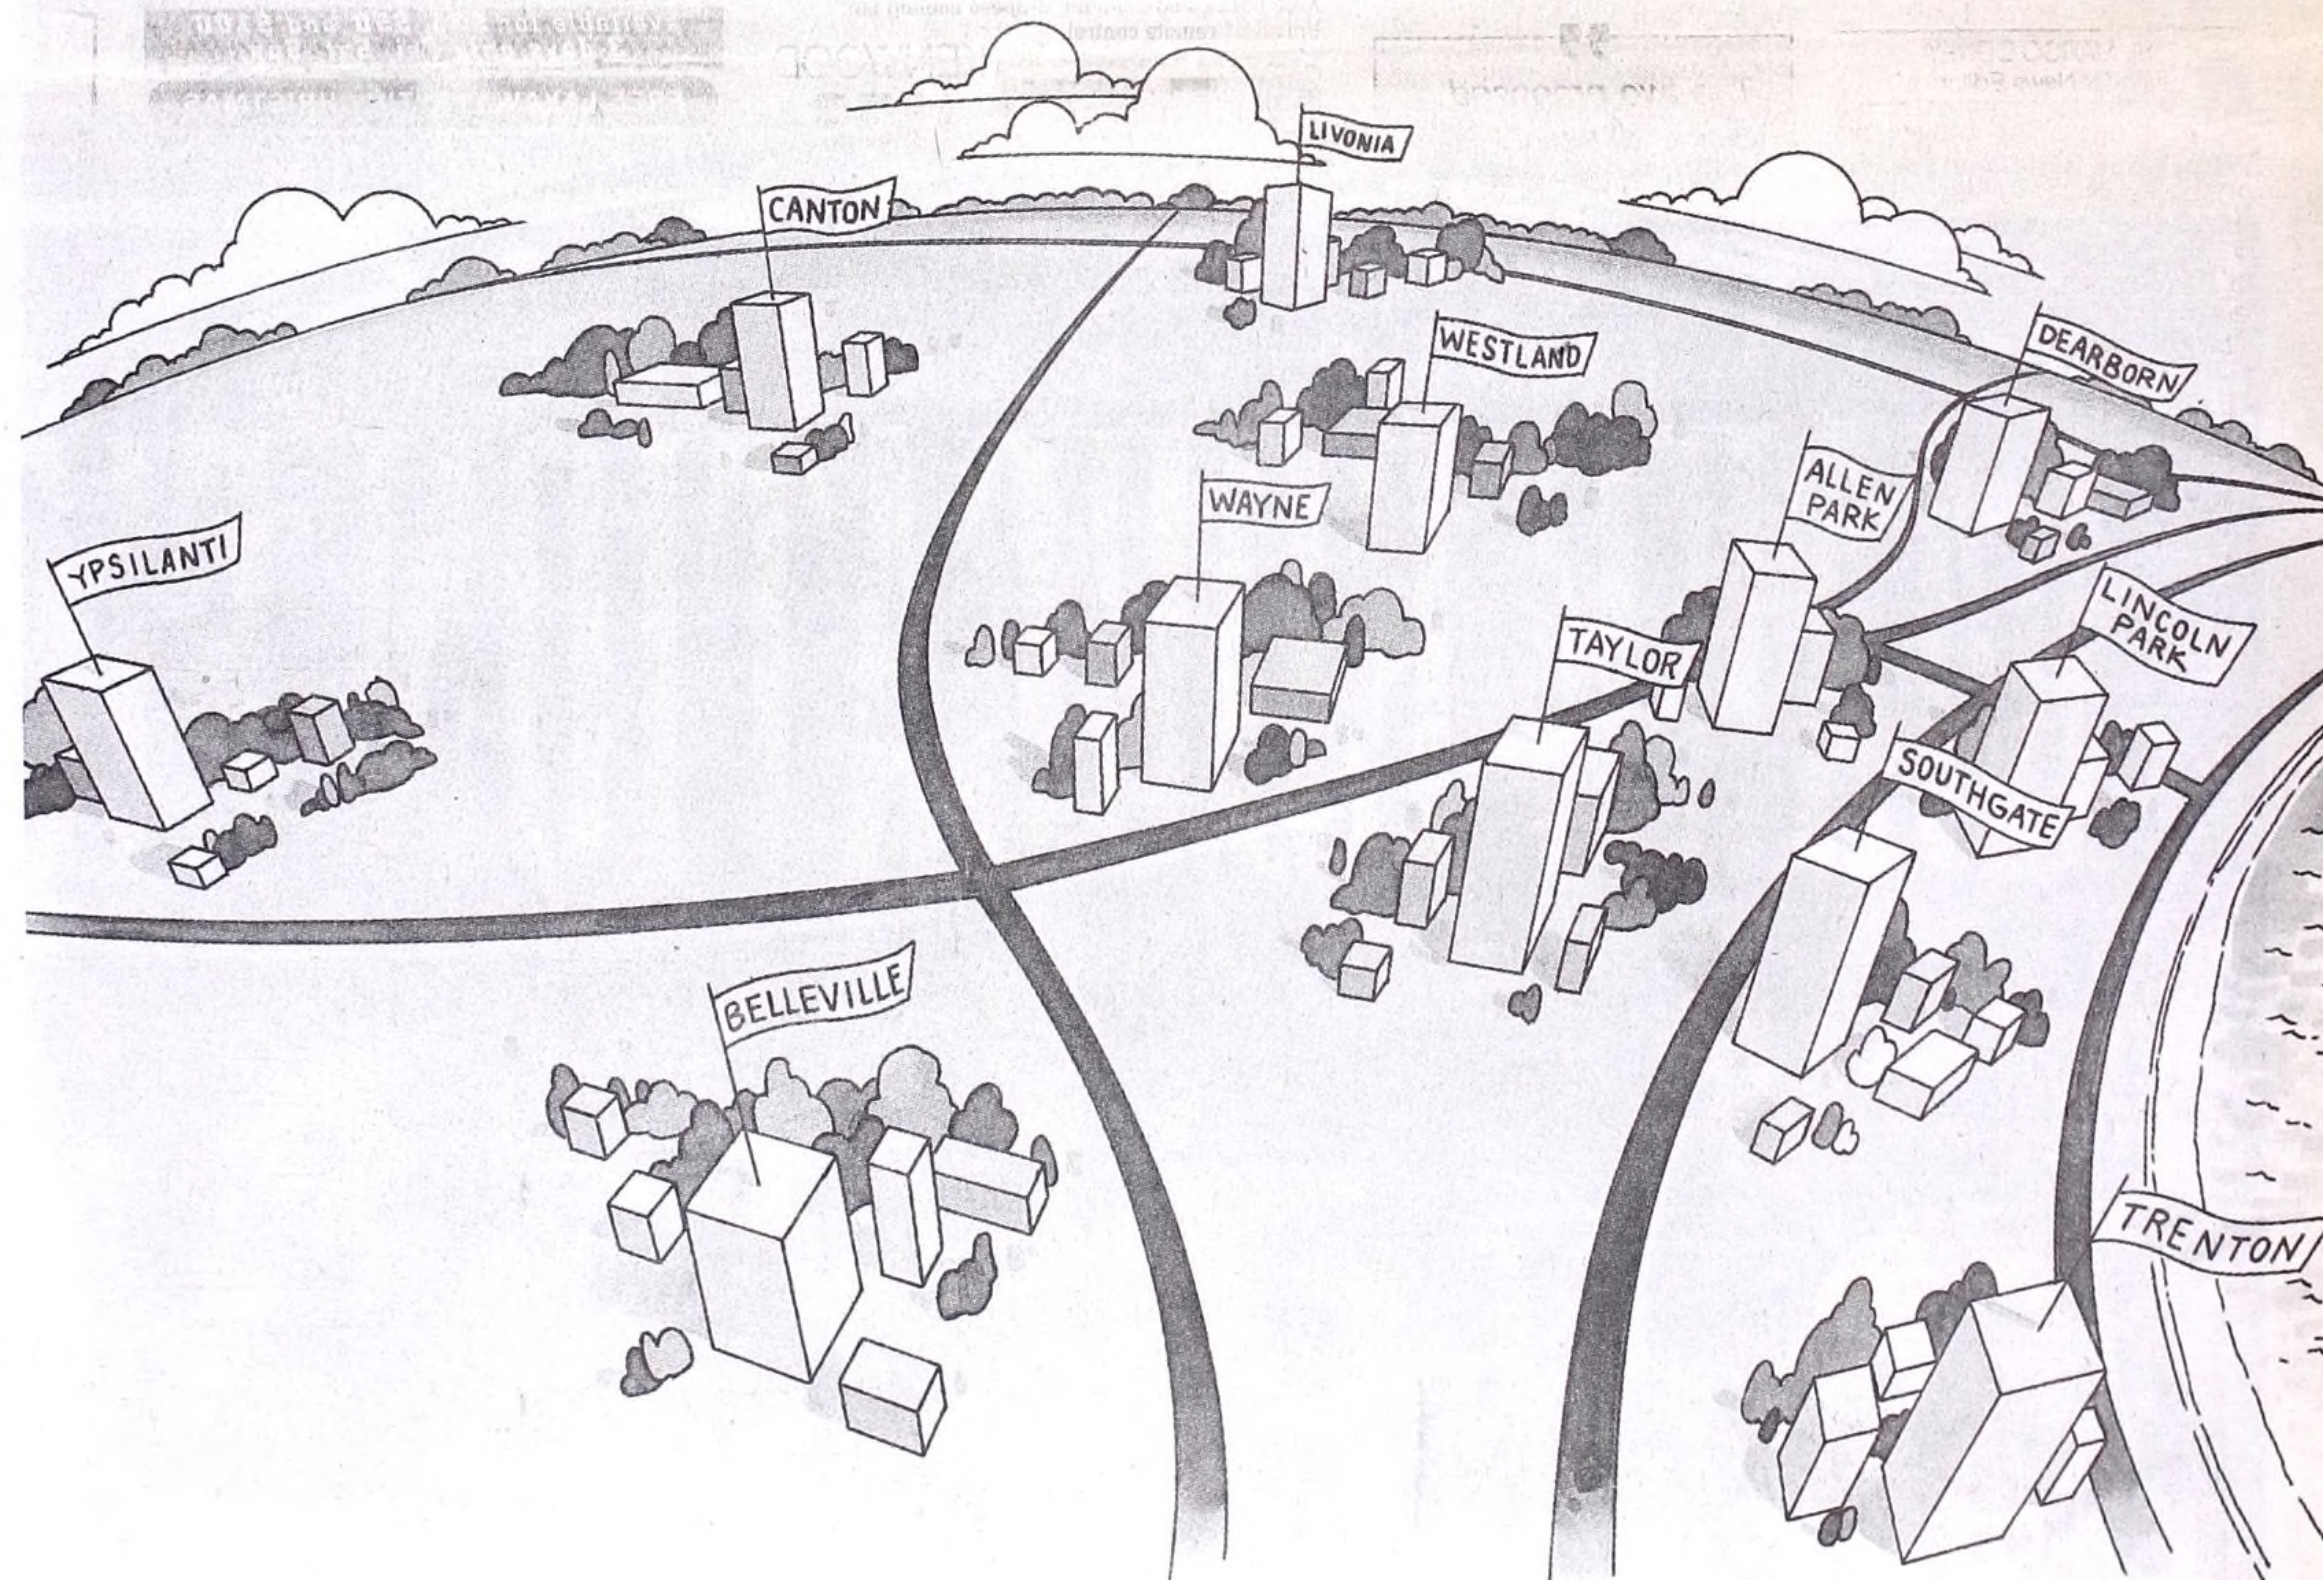

- Community College Benefits Contract: Will provide full tuition and mandatory fees for students enrolled in Michigan public community colleges or will provide a refund to a Michigan public university.

private, or out-of-state college on behalf of the student.

The purchase of a MET contract provides a tax-deferred investment for the purchaser. The purchase price can be credited against the purchaser's Michigan income tax liability in the year the contract is purchased. Thus, the purchaser receives a 4.4 percent discount on the cost of the contract. Additionally, interest on the investment is not taxed until the benefit is used by the student attending college. The income tax liability is then levied against the student, who usually has a lower tax rate than the initial purchaser.

To receive more information about MET or to receive an application form, please write to: Michigan Education Trust, P.O. Box 30198, Lansing, Mich. 48909

Proposal P offers parks prosperity

If you visited a state park this summer, you may have attended a nature program on animal tracking, crossed a 400-foot boardwalk over a wetland or parked your motor home at a pull-through campsite.

All of these were provided by Proposal P, which passed in the November 1994 election, and established a permanent source of funding for Michigan State Parks.

"Our 96 state parks highlight some of Michigan's 'crown jewels,' yet these very resources had been suffering from overuse, decreased park staff and limited educational programs for years," Department of Natural Resources Director Mike Moore said. "Proposal P is restoring these parks to their former glory."

Proposal P created the Michigan State Parks Endowment Fund, which provides $5 million annually for operations, maintenance and capital improvements. Proposal P revenues are generated from oil and gas production royalties on state land.

Wayne considers civil infractions

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

The Wayne city council approved Nov. 5 the first reading of the Municipal Civil Infractions ordinance 608 and 609 which "decriminalizes" some of the city ordinances, according to city attorney Richard Clark.

"The two proposed new ordinances will create a Municipal Civil Infractions Bureau," said Clark. "This bureau is being created to allow the city to pass legislation or amend existing legislation which will make certain actions Municipal Civil Infractions."

The primary difference between a Municipal Civil Infraction and a Civil Infraction, according to Clark, is that the monies will be paid by a person who pleads or is found responsible for their actions directly to the city treasurer's office.

Clark added that he has met with 29th District Court Judge Carolyn Archbold and, in the near future, an effective administrative method for the District Court and the city treasurer's office is expected to be structured.

The two proposed new ordinances will create a Municipal Civil Infractions Bureau.

Chrysler LHS, a luxury sedan

By JUSTIN WILCOX
MCN Automotive Writer

Now ranked among the best in quality by independent industry analysts, the flagship LHS model embodies the engineering sophistication and contemporary design now associated with the Chrysler brand.

Cab-forward design coupled with graceful sheetmetal provide a distinctive exterior as well as a spacious interior with extraordinary forward visibility.

In just three years since its introduction, the LHS has won raves from buyers for comfort, roominess and performance.

The LHS continues to surprise and delight customers, many of whom had not considered a Chrysler product in the past, for their fun-to-drive character.

Powering the LHS is a smooth, responsive 214 horsepower, 3.5-liter, multi-valve, V6 engine. The engine is mated to a full-adaptive, four-speed electronically controlled automatic transmission.

New features for the 1996 model year, include a quieter interior resulting from structural engineering combined with the addition of interior trim silencers, acoustic treatment for the shelf panel and urethane spring seats and cradle isolators, a new HomeLink Transmitter garage door opener, which eliminates the need for carrying a remote; and an improved Chrysler/Infinity Spatial Imaging sound system with a combined compact disc player and cassette unit along with a new integral electric backlight antenna.

Standard safety equipment on both models continues to be dual airbags, anti-lock brakes, child protection rear door locks, keyless remote entry and vehicle theft alarm.

Standard equipment also includes: power windows, power locks, illuminated entry, Solar Control windows and electronic speed control.

With a base price of only $30,255, the Chrysler LHS offers drivers a lot of convenience without the high price of ownership.

The LHS stacks up well against its competition when price and options are considered. Where it seems to lack in my opinion is in the looks department. The exterior shape just seems a bit bland when compared to its cousin the Chrysler Concorde or Dodge Intrepid. Although similar in shape the other vehicles appear to have a more aggressive stance.

Don't get me wrong, this was a beautiful car to drive every day. The amenities and options make the car more like an easy chair rather than a daily commuter.

It deserves serious consideration if you are in the market for a personal luxury sedan. The best part about this car is the fact that it is so far ahead of the sedans it replaces just a short ten years ago, that it will put a grin on your face every time you turn the key.

School-wide campaign aids area clothing bank

By KIMBERLY WOLOSKE
MCN Staff Writer

Answering a call for help, the student body at P.D. Graham Elementary in the Wayne-Westland School District was ready and willing to take action when the directors of the district's clothing bank said they needed laundry products.

The Wayne-Westland Community School District's Clothing Bank, organized by Jim and Linda Pratt, provides needy families of the district an opportunity to receive clean, used clothing donated to the bank.

The facility separate the clothes according to gender, season, size and need - garments are then cleaned, mended and folded before being distributed.

"In the morning a collection is taken from each classroom by student council representatives."
- Pat Keith

A great deal of time and effort is involved in the support of the clothing bank including the cleaning of the donations despite the high cost associated with the purchase of laundry soap, fabric softener and bleach.

Once P.D. Graham students became aware of the bank's need, the school in cooperation with the student council organized a soap drive for the collection of laundry products.

According to student council sponsor and fourth grader teacher Pat Keith, the student rallied together to collect as many products as they could for the bank.

"In the morning a collection is taken from each classroom by student council representatives," said Keith, "The donations are then tallied, and the classroom with the most products will win the privilege to have Husky the stuffed animal remain in their care."

After the 10-day donation period, students in total collected 260 laundry products for the clothing bank with Gloria Worswick's third grade class in first place with the most donations.

"When we found out the clothing bank needed laundry products, we knew we could help," said Student Council President Kristal Kilgore. "I think it's important that we remember to help people."

Wizard

the light bulbs themselves."

Harlan found out that his daughter's classroom was like thousands of others. The excitement of exploring was gone and was replaced with hard-to-remember science facts.

He said he wanted to share his findings out "with the world".

"I started writing a proposal of how I, Dennis Harlan, was going to change science education single-handedly at the world headquarters here in Plymouth, Mich.," Harlan said. "It was very ambitious to say the least. I told Mr. Wizard, Don Herbert, about it. He patted me on the back and said "Nice work, Dennis. Good luck."

Harlan's project gathered dust for awhile. Then he got a break.

"Don Herbert was invited to be the keynote speaker for the National Science Teachers Association for one year," Harlan said. "At each of the five meetings he attended as the keynote speaker in that one year, there was standing room only. People couldn't get enough of Don Herbert."

Herbert received a call from the president of Nickelodeon who asked him if he had any kind of ideas for a science cable program in the classroom for teachers.

"Don called me up and said 'Dennis, they are going to give us a half hour on television a week, what can we do?'" Harlan said. "I told him to forget it because in order for teachers to really understand this kind of science, teachers have to experience it before they can teach it. It has to be hands-on for them too."

Six months later through research and Herbert's communication with the National Science Foundation (NSF), Harlan found out the NSF was looking to promote the hands-on, inquiry approach to science.

Harlan said he knew he had distribution through Nickelodeon.

"We had the capability of broadcasting our show in 62 million homes, potentially," Harlan said. "Not only that, but Cable in the Classroom promised to wire all the schools in their communities and provide cable service free."

Harlan said this not only provided an outstanding source of exposure for the program, but it also allowed teachers to tape the program and watch it at their own leisure.

A proposal was written by Harlan to the NSF, and NSF gave the Mr. Wizard program $4 million to complete 50, 15-minute programs. Nickelodeon then offered the science television project nearly $2 million.

Due to the popularity of the show, Harlan created another business to compliment Mr. Wizard. He now rents out science kits to teachers who are interested in presenting one of Mr. Wizard's programs in their classrooms.

"We have 30 or 40 teachers calling us a week asking for materials and kits so they can use this approach in their classroom," said Harlan. "They can't buy the kits, they can only rent them."

Is Harlan still having fun with the hands-on, inquiry approach after all these years?

"I still can't get enough of this," said Harlan.

The Mr. Wizard Foundation is located at 44800 Helm Street in Plymouth. To find out more information about renting a science demonstration kit call 1-800-258-2344.
